

Southern Shield

Good/ Best Practice feedback

Nature of works

N/A

Date of good practice note

August 2017

Names on hard hats

Description of the good practice

The placing of the names of site staff on stickers placed on the front of their helmets so that they can be recognised on the site to any of the team.

What are the benefits?

Having names on helmets breaks down barriers between staff on site and allows them to feel part of a team and encourages working with colleagues as a team.

Supporting Information

BAM sites have been issued with a Brother p-touch E550w hand held printer with 24mm black on yellow tape. Purchase price about £150 each.